Character Education in Schools

Character Education has been shown to decrease bullying and school violence, while improving student satisfaction and test scores.

We believe Academics and Character Education are equally important. Schools that implement Character Education become places where students want to be.

Good character drives success in academics, sports, citizenship, friendships and family. It is important to teach youth how to stay committed, to be a person of your word and to be a person of good character.

Because I said I would Character Education teaches students the importance of a promise. It helps them develop good habits that will improve our world.
